Dear Parents/Carers,

This week has flown by and the children in Willow Class have adapted really well to not having their regular teacher. They are certainly keeping me busy! We have continued to think about how we need to try and try again in order to achieve our dreams and goals. During PSHCE this week, the children had to describe something they have had to work hard to learn. I was very impressed with their thoughtful responses. Many of them talked about learning to ride a bike and having to keep practising with stabilisers. A lot of them are also proud of the fact that they are trying really hard to learn to swim.

We have all been proud of the children's writing this week. They are all using their sound mats and key words to help them write their own stories. It is also lovely to see their enthusiasm for writing and wanting to put their ideas on paper.

Last week Mrs Matthews worked with a group of children on making a bug hotel on the school field. They talked about what they needed to put in the hotel in order to attract different insects. I think you will agree that our hotel is certainly a 5 star luxury hotel!

I have continued to read 'Alice in Wonderland' to the children and we made our own 'Drink Me' potions and 'Eat Me' cakes this week. The children have been practising measuring quantities accurately and also tasting new things.

The children have finished voting for their School Council representatives this week. Nevaeh and Blake will represent Cherry Class and Lily and Jax will represent Willow Class. We will be meeting next week to start to plan our first project.

I have spent some time with Lisa in Baby Room this week and thoroughly enjoyed getting to know some of our youngest children. They have enjoyed exploring their Gruffalo Cave and making their own music. Bluebell and Snowdrop room are busy transforming their role play area into a fire station and have started to build their own fire engine. I can't wait to see it when it is finished!

Thank you to everyone who attended the Parent Forum last night. I hope that you found it useful. I will put a summary of the meeting on the website next week.

We have already had one expression of interest for our Governing Body. Packs for potential Parent Governors will be available from the school office from Wednesday next week.
